PURPOSE

The purpose of the Pine Creek Village Association (PCVA) Architectural Color Palettes document is to redefine the color palette from the original builder into modern and available paint, stucco, stone, and roofing colors. This document will serve all homeowners in PCVA and enable a variety of colors from a predetermined palette for each home style and accent/trim combination. The intent is not to define the colors for each home, per se, but to allow homeowners to select colors that appeal to them in keeping with the palette provided. Note that for any exterior home improvement, homeowners must first submit a Design Review Request (DRR) as defined in the Community Guidelines, and the DRR must be approved by the Modifications Committee before commencing with any exterior projects.

1.0 ARCHITECTURAL STYLE COMPARISON

Pine Creek Village Association (PCVA) is comprised of four different home architectural styles: Prairie, Craftsman, European Cottage, and Spanish Eclectic.

- TWO STORY MAIN BODY MASSING WITH SINGLE-STORY ELEMENTS (I.E. PORCH)
- MASSIVE SQUARE PORCH SUPPORTS

1.2 Craftsman Style

CRAFTSMAN STYLE

- LOW-PITCHED GABLE ROOF FORMS
- GABLE-END DETAILS (BRACKETS, EXPOSED RAFTER TAILS AND ROOF BEAMS, ETC.)
- FRONT PORCH WITH BATTERED COLUMN SUPPORTS

1.3 European Style

EUROPEAN COTTAGE STYLE

- MEDIUM TO STEEPLY PITCHED ROOF FORMS
- MULTIPLE WALL MATERIALS
- ALCOVE ENTRY
- SHUTTERS
- ARCHED OPENINGS

1.4 Spanish Eclectic Style

- PROMINENT ARCHES (DOORWAYS AND WINDOWS)
- ASYMMETRICAL FACADES

2.0 COLOR PROGRAM OVERVIEW

During the original development of PCVA, La Plata created a distinctive color palette to strongly identify with each of the architectural styles: Prairie, Craftsman, European Cottage, and Spanish Eclectic. The intent of the color program is to promote variety among the defined architectural styles while allowing compatibility within the entire PCVA community.

2.1 COLOR PALETTE FORMAT

Each style's paint palette contains specific paint color groupings for:

- a. Primary and Secondary Field
- b. Fascia and Trim
- c. Accent

Every appropriate or usable color may not be represented in each palette. The homeowner may augment the palette with other colors as long as the colors fit within the range of colors illustrated in each grouping. Approval of additional colors is at the sole discretion of the Modification Committee as established in the PCVA Community Guidelines.

Stucco colors from El Rey and La Habra have been selected to closely correspond with the paint colors listed for each architectural style.

2.2 COLOR APPLICATION

- a. "Color Blocking" is a technique used to illustrate color applications on a building, highlighting changes in field color. Color blocking technique should be incorporated on the paint board and DRR form so that logical color termination points can be identified. Color changes should occur at inside corners only. DRR submittals shall include photos of the front and rear elevations and indicate how the color blocking is to be applied.
- b. Roof colors are listed for each architectural palette that identify acceptable colors from both concrete tile and composition shingle manufacturers. In general, the roof color shall be darker and less reflective than the field color of the building. The manufacturers listed are for color purposes only. Manufacturer crossovers are acceptable as long as they closely relate to the visual intent of the selected palette.
- c. Primary and Secondary Field colors have been grouped together to provide greater flexibility. A secondary field color should only be used in ways that are appropriate to the architectural style.
- d. Fascia and trim colors have been grouped together to provide greater flexibility. For all styles, there shall be a clear contrast between the field color(s) and the fascia/trim color(s), i.e., light field colors with darker trim/fascia and dark field colors with lighter trim/fascia. Corner boards shall be painted to match the surrounding field color. Refer to Exhibit 3-A in the PCVA Design Guidelines for information regarding appropriate color ranges.
- e. Accent colors are the deepest and richest colors in each palette. These colors should be used to accentuate specific detail elements on the elevations such as front doors, and may include shutters, louvers, railings, corbels, etc. Wood-stained front doors are acceptable for all styles.

- f. The garage door must not be the focal point of the home and must be either the body color of the home, the color of the exterior trim of the home (fascia, soffit, horizontal gutters), or a color in the chosen color palette, and may not be multiple colors or contrast with the home. Multiple garage doors at the same residence must be the same color and style.
- g. Gutters and downspouts shall be painted the same color as the element to which they are attached.
- h. Refer to the PCVA Community Guidelines and the PCVA Design Guidelines for more information.

2.3 COLOR PLOTTING

No house adjacent to or directly across from another may share the same or substantially similar color scheme. This requirement applies to all detached projects in PCVA.

3.0 MATERIAL AND COLOR LIST FOR EACH STYLE

This section contains a list of materials, including roofing, brick, stone, and stucco, as well as paint for each color field, by architecture style.
